12 OF THE BEST DESTINATION AND EXPERIENCE TO DISCOVER IN EAST BALI

Take the trail less visited and discover East Bali on your next holiday to the Island of the Gods. Here are 12 best destinations and experiences to inspire you.

Bali

Tourists, Travelers, & Adventure-seekers...

Om swastiastu. Welcome to our September issue!

September brings sunny days with cool breezes, little rain, and a daily average temperature of 27°C. The average ocean temperature remains at 27°C and September is the last month of Bali's "dry season". Humidity levels in September are the lowest of the year, with an average of 70% for the month.

For those visiting Bali, there continue to be many great deals at hotels and properties across the island. Many properties are offering a version of a "pay now/ stay later" packages offering bargains and flexibility for savvy travelers.

Head over to our Hot Deals section to check out some ideas for stays and activities on the island including great specials at The Ritz Carlton Bali, GWK Cultural Park, Munduk Plantation, W Hotel Bali and Hotel Tugu Lombok.

In our Don't Miss section, read about Tumpek Landep & Pagerwesi,

Tumpek Landep is a Balinese ceremonial day when offerings are made for objects that are made of metal. The word tumpek means 'close (to)' and the word landep means 'sharp'

Pagerwesi is one of the holiest days in Bali and is celebrated every 210 days in the Balinese calendar. Observance of Pagerwesi coincides with the celebration of Saraswati – the day of knowledge. The reason for this is that after the celebration of knowledge and divine inspiration during Saraswati, Pagerwesi is observed to protect and shield this knowledge and inspiration from forces of evil.

Check out our What's New in Bali section, for news on Tugu Hotel has organic honey. Produced from the pollen of organically grown plants, and without chemical miticides to treat the bees, our Tugu Kawisari Honey is 100% pure raw coffee blossom honey harvested from the oldest coffee plantation in Java and THE RITZ-CARLTON CHEF On Wheels . Will bring The Ritz-Carlton luxury dining experience to your doorstep.

Hari Raya Purnama October 10, 2022

FULL MOON CEREMONIES AND TRADITIONS IN BALI

The island of Bali is all about finding balance, harmony and peace and Balinese Hinduism is a great reflection of that. The Balinese tend to pray to the demons and Gods alike in their Hindu Dharma religion, which includes honouring the shadow and light to find balance in life. This play of opposing forces and the acceptance of light and dark, joy and sorrow, benevolence as well as maliciousness is called Rwa Binneda in Balinese culture. Which better way to honor just that than on each full and new moon!

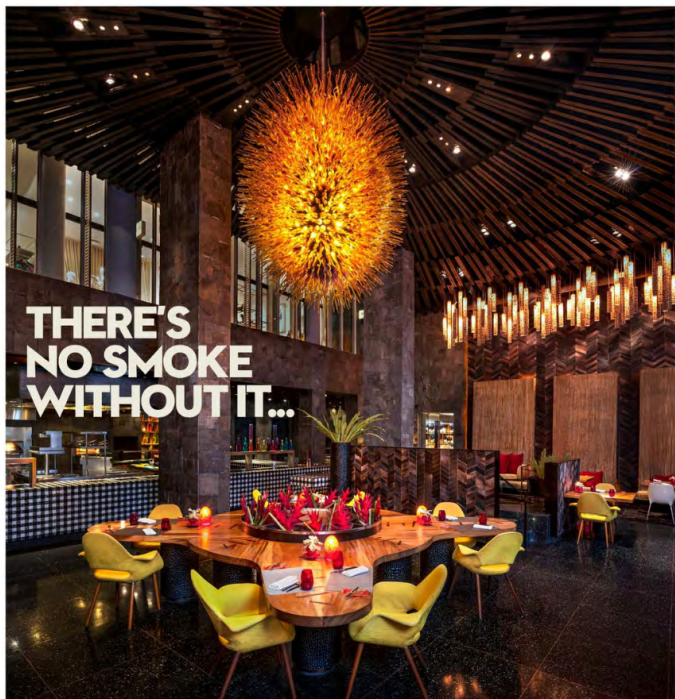

Purnama, or full moon in Bali is a special day for ceremonies and festivities. Hundreds of temples all over the island celebrate this special day hosting splendid ceremonies. Balinese believe that Purnama is a propitious day when Gods descend to the earth and give their blessing. On this sacred day, hundreds of ceremonies are held in all corners of the island to satisfy and honor the gods with offerings such as food, fruit and flowers. The Balinese themselves are then blessed by performing various rituals using holy water, incense smoke, petals and rice grains.

Hari Raya Tilem October 25, 2022

DARK MOON CEREMONIES AND TRADITIONS IN BALI

Tilem (dark moon) is a ceremony dedicated for Dewa Surya (the god of sun). Hindu Balinese people praying at the village temple in the afternoon. Tilem is believed as a special day to purify inner self and to eliminate all impurities inside of human being. In general, Tilem ceremony is a regular monthly ritual as Tilem occurs once in a month when the earth position is in between the sun and the moon so we cannot see the moon over the sky. However, some big ceremonies fall in tilem day, such as: Tawur Kesanga on Tilem Kesanga (the ninth tilem of the year), Siwaratri on the seventh tilem of the year, Eka Dasa Rudra, a very big ceremony which occurs every 100 years on tilem Kesanga, and Panca Wali Krama at Besakih temple which is held every 10 years on Tilem Sasih Kesanga.

Bali's Best Awards

THE 1ST INDONESIA VIRTUAL RUN TO GIVE 2020

Fifty-five (55) hotels from Marriott International hotels and resorts in Indonesia, hosted the 1st Virtual Run To Give Indonesia on October 1st to 31st, 2020. The purpose of this charity event was to raise money for an Indonesia-wide associates relief fund, which will be dedicated to support Marriott Associates who have been affected by the COVID 19 pandemic and in support of Bali Children's foundation. Besides the General Managers and other hotels' associates, the general public also joined the run and support this great cause. This event was Marriott Indonesia's first ever virtual charity run, allowing participants to adhering to social-distancing measures and to safeguard the wellbeing of our guests, associates and participants. "We are very pleased with the success of our first Virtual Run to Give," said Marie Browne, General Manager of Sheraton Bali Kuta Resort and Chairwoman of Virtual Run To Give 2020. "Our associates, brands and partners have shown overwhelming support for this cause. We are proud to help raise awareness and funds not only for our associates but also for Bali Children Foundation, supporting the underprivileged children of Bali"

APURVA SPA WINS 'BEST HOTEL SPA' IN COVETED CONDÉ NAST JOHANSENS AWARD 2020

Nestled in The Apurva Kempinski Bali Resort, this destination spa provides a holistic haven for distinguished guests. The Apurva Kempinski Bali is delighted to announce that its unique indigenous spa, Apurva Spa has been recognised as the 'Best Hotel Spa' in the 2020 Condé Nast Johansens Awards for Excellence. Apurva Spa has been drawing the enthusiasm of spa enthusiasts since its opening in August 2019. Inspired by the traditions of ancient Indonesia, this award-winning spa embodies the holistic healing philosophy that began more than 2,000 years ago, combining time-honoured rituals and modern techniques. The complete wellness experience at Apurva Spa is based on the ancient proverb 'rupasampat wahyabiantara': true beauty is achieved when outer beauty is in harmony with inner beauty. Traditional ointments such as lulur, a herb and spice body scrub, will help achieve outer beauty, while activities such as sunrise yoga and chakra meditation will pave the way to inner harmony and balance.

WORLD LUXURY HOTEL AWARDS ANNOUNCES THE APURVA KEMPINSKI BALI AS THE GLOBAL OVERALL HOTEL OF THE YEAR

The award makes a total of four coveted recognitions from World Luxury Hotel Awards

The Apurva Kempinski Bali announced that it has recently been crowned with four different awards, by the World Luxury Hotel Awards. Koral Restaurant is 2020's Best Luxury Unique Experience; Apurva Spa is Best Luxury Spa Resort; while the resort itself received Best Luxury Resort and Best Overall Hotel of the Year 2020.

Bali's first aquarium restaurant, Koral Restaurant is one of the signature dining venues at the resort. Led by Chef Andrea Astone, whose background in two-Michelinstar restaurants brought a refined culinary style, the restaurant has been entertaining guests with its gastronomic cuisines and lively aquatic dining scene.

THE FINEST HONEY OF THE ARCHIPELAGO FROM TUGU KAWISARI COFFEE

Produced from the pollen of organically grown plants, and without chemical miticides to treat the bees, our Tugu Kawisari Honey is 100% pure raw coffee blossom honey harvested from the oldest coffee plantation in Java. That's what made our honey a real rarity and very difficult to harvest as the flowers of the coffee are opened only for a very short period of time for pollination. Our Coffee Honey is extracted only once a year when the coffee flowers bloom in around the mid-year, each time only for 1-2 days. During those days, the most fragrant scent spreads across the whole plantation, and thousands of bees busy themselves with making the most delicious coffee honey of the year.

Pure raw honey may naturally crystalize as it may contain small particles of bee pollen, especially when stored at low temperatures. Crystallized pure honey tastes rich and It is great as a spread.

Due to the high demands of this precious golden jar of goodness, we are now selling our Honey and other organic ethically grown products of The Tugu Kawisari Plantation from our website. Find our plethora of choices of 100% artisan grade Robusta and Arabica Coffees, freshly picked tea from the mountains of East Java, natural organic jams, or even our organic premium wellness products.

GET BEAUTIFUL NOSE WITH RHINOPLASTY

Having a pointy nose is considered to improve appearance and increase self-confidence. One way to get a pointy nose is by rhinoplasty. This method is quite popular, especially for millennials who are no longer taboo about the procedure of getting the desired nose shape instantly with surgery.

Rhinoplasty

Nose surgery (rhinoplasty) is surgery to improve the shape or appearance of the nose to be more harmonious. But not only for aesthetic reasons, rhinoplasty is also performed to correct a less than ideal nose shape that causes difficulty breathing, correct congenital defects in the nose, or even nose shape damaged by accident.

Generally, rhinoplasty is performed under local or general anesthesia, depending on the advice and consideration of the plastic surgeon during the initial examination. The doctor will also analyze the shape of the trunk and nostrils to be corrected from the patient. During the consultation, the patient is expected to be able to discuss in detail with the plastic surgeon about the conditions, risks, and expected results of the procedure before finally deciding to undergo rhinoplasty.

The Apurva Kempinski Bali Unveils Bai Yun: Hot Pot Restaurant

The signature Chinese restaurant adds to the diverse culinary journey. Another exciting dining experience has arrived at The Apurva Kempinski Bali. This time, the resort announces the opening of Bai Yun, a delightful Chinese hot pot experience. “Bai Yun” translates as “white cloud” in Chinese-Mandarin, and it reflects the dining concept of this restaurant. The inspiration comes from the way hot pots produce heat, which in turn creates the steam that floats in the air, resembling white clouds.

“Hot pot is one of the most popular meals in China, and it has long been present in Indonesia’s culinary scene,” Chef Ho Weng Kit shared. “We cannot wait to show the world our take on this popular dining style.”

Bai Yun Restaurant’s Executive Chef Ho Weng Kit has more than 23 years of culinary expertise, especially cooking for large-scale functions. He led the team at one of the biggest catering companies and co-managed the kitchens of one of the largest casinos in Toulouse, France. His culinary passion was first developed in his country of origin, Malaysia, before he moved to France in 2001, with a brief stopover of two years in Singapore. Chef Kit is a competitor by nature, and his skills and creativity have earned him over 30 prestigious accolades across Asia and Europe. This newly launched restaurant caters to groups from 4 to 150 people, making it an ideal place for casual gatherings or family celebrations. The opening of this dining venue also adds another element to the resort’s Celebrating Diversity programme, a campaign that embraces the diverse aspects of the resort and puts a spotlight on craftsmanship.

Bai Yun welcomes guests on 1 May 2021 and opens its doors daily from 18:00 to 22:00. For more information and reservations, please call 081138209541 or email restaurants.bali@kempinski.com.

Bali's Best Golf Courses

Golf presents the perfect activity for the current realities of the world today as well as an escape from the current headlines. It is one of the few sports that can be played safely, provided certain precautions are taken by both players and course operators. With wide open spaces, players can maintain limited social contact while enjoying fresh air, outdoor exercise and the resulting positive physical and mental benefits. The golf industry is adapting to the "new normal" with more courses adopting protocols such as 1 player per cart (unless from same household), no contact with flag sticks (or requiring players to "hole out") as well as limited social distancing throughout facilities. Be sure to check your golf course's policies related to play during Covid-19 prior to booking your round. The following is a list of Bali's world-class golf courses. Get out there and have some fun!

Handara Golf & Resort Bali

Handara Golf & Resort Bali is an award-winning golf club and resort once ranked among the "Top 50 Golf Courses in The World" by Golf Magazine and chosen as the 2019 winner of the "Best Golf Hotel in Indonesia" by the prestigious World Golf Awards. Handara was one of the first world-class golf clubs in the country and has long been recognized as one of Asia's most iconic and challenging courses. Located in the mountains (1400m elevation) and central lake district of Bedugul and away from the busy tourist centers, Handara is a scenic golf destination that offers a unique cool weather experience. With deep blue skies, fresh mountain air and temperatures averaging between 14-20 degrees Celsius, it is the most comfortable golfing location in Bali and a perfect nature getaway to escape the heat! Handara Golf and Resort Bali recently announced that it has been granted Travelife Gold Certification. Travelife is an international sustainability certification scheme which assists its 1,300 members around the world improve their environmental, social and economic impacts cost-effectively. Desa Pancasari - Singaraja, Bali | www.handaragolfresort.com

Bali Beach Golf Course

Established in 1972, The Bali Beach Golf Course backs on to one of the first 5-star hotels on the island and a historical landmark in Sanur. Bali Beach Golf is a 9-hole course filled with tall trees that may be as mature as the heritage hotel. Surrounded by lakes and newly re-designed greens, Bali Beach is one of the smallest golf courses in Bali, yet its privacy offers a luxurious golf experience. This is a course that will provide challenges to all golfers of all skill levels. Golf lessons and a night driving range are also available. Kompleks Inna Grand Bali Beach Hotel, Jl Hangtuah No 58, Sanur | www.balibeachgolfcourse.com

Bali National Golf Club

Located on the southern tip of the island within the Nusa Dua tourism complex, the luxurious Bali National Golf Club sits alongside a long stretch of white sand beaches and is just a 15-minute drive via toll road from the international airport. Parkland terrain, lush tropical jungle fauna, ocean views, coconut groves, high dunes and lakes all elevate your playing experience here. Spectacular views of the Indian Ocean and the Nusa Dua area are evident on practically every hole. A grass driving range with chipping and putting greens are also available. The mature natural setting of Bali National Golf Club offers the best playing experience on the island and stellar maintenance ensures year-round championship playing conditions. The MAJ Nusa Dua, Kawasan Wisata Nusa Dua Lot S-5, Kuta Selatan balinational.com

New Kuta Golf

Situated in Bali's southwestern region of Pecatu, nestled between brilliant white limestone cliffs and the endless blue horizon of the Indian Ocean, New Kuta Golf Course is a championship standard golf course ranking among Asia's best and most challenging. Established in 2007, New Kuta Golf was designed as the first links-style layout in Indonesia with the original contours of the land preserved. The signature hole is the 15th hole, aptly named "The Cliffhanger" and is perched high above a limestone cliff, overlooking the stunning Dreamland and Balangan Beaches and the Indian Ocean. Taking in the 240-degree ocean views while standing on the tee, you will understand why this is one of the most photographed golf holes in the region. Tip: When booking your round, a tee-off around 2pm is the perfect time to catch a spectacular sunset at the end of your game. The club also has a lookout tower beside the clubhouse where patrons can climb up to view Bali's magical sunsets. The course is located just a 20-minute drive from the International Airport. Jl Raya Uluwatu, Kawasan Pecatu Indah Resort, Pecatu, South Kuta | newkutagolf.co.id

Bukit Pandawa Golf & Country Club

Bukit Pandawa Golf & Country Club is situated on 150 hectares of stunning clifftop real estate near Bali's southernmost point. Established in 2016, this 18-hole championship caliber par-3 course is the latest addition to the growing collection of world-class golf courses in Bali; the first of its kind in Southeast Asia. Offering unparalleled sea views, this course was the the winner of the 2017 Best Par-3 Golf Course and is sure to please golfers of all levels. Unique features including rustic architectural ruins, stunning waterfalls and the majestic backdrop of the Bukit Peninsula are all key components of this highly enjoyable track, where the serenity of Balinese culture is well immersed into the course design. This unique par-54 layout can also be played in an average of just 120 minutes and is just 30 mins from the International airport. Jl. Beautiful Island

With reputation as one of the most beautiful and diverse tourist spots in asia, bali annually attracts almost 7,000,000 visitors yearly from around the world

GEOGRAPHICALLY, SITUATED BETWEEN THE ISLANDS OF JAVA AND

LOMBOK, Bali is small, stretching approximately 140 km from east to west, and 80 km from north to south. The tallest of a string of volcanic mountains that run from the east to the west is Gunung Agung, which last erupted in 1963. Located just 8° south of the Equator, Bali boasts a tropical climate with just two seasons (wet and dry) a year with an average temperature of around 28°C. The wide and gently sloping southern regions play host to Bali's famed rice terraces, which are among some of the most spectacular in the world. In the hilly, northern coastal regions, the main produce is coffee, copra, spices, vegetables, cattle and rice.

The Balinese have strong spiritual roots and despite the large influx of tourists over the years, their culture is still very much alive. The main religion is Agama Hindu Dharma, which, although originally from India, is comprised of a unique blend of Hindu, Buddhist, Javanese and ancient indigenous beliefs; It is very different from the Hinduism practiced in India today. Naturally creative, the Balinese have traditionally used their talents for religious purposes and most of the beautiful work to be seen here has been inspired by stories from the Ramayana and other Hindu epics.

The majority of Bali's 4,000,000 people live, for the most part, in tight village communities with large extended families. The largest cities are Denpasar (the capital) and Singaraja in the north. The main tourist area stretches from Kuta to Seminyak. Kuta became a major attraction during the tourist boom of the 70's because of its famous white-sand beaches, the surf, and stunning sunsets.

Today, the stretch from Kuta to Seminyak is a major tourist destination, with hundreds of hotels, bars, restaurants and shops. Those in search of a little peace and quiet tend to head for the more serene resorts of Sanur and Candi Dasa on the east coast, or Lovina in the north. Nusa Dua, on the southernmost peninsula of the island, houses many five-star hotels. The central village of Ubud, in the hilly region of Gianyar, has also blossomed as a tourist attraction and is now considered to be the artistic and cultural centre of Bali.

Beautiful Culture

By the Bronze era, around 300 B.C., a fairly evolved culture already existed on Bali. The complex system of irrigation and rice production, still in use today, was established around this time.

IT APPEARS THAT THE MAIN RELIGION AROUND 500 A.D. WAS PREDOMINANTLY BUDDHIST IN INFLUENCE. In 670 A.D., a Chinese scholar (Yi-Tsing), on a trip to India, reported that he had visited a Buddhist country called Bali. It wasn't until the 11th century that Bali received the first strong influx of Hindu and Javanese cultures. With the death of his father around AD 1011, the Balinese Prince, Airlangga, moved to East Java and set about uniting it under one principality. Having succeeded, he then appointed his brother, Anak Wungsu, as ruler of Bali. During the ensuing period there was a reciprocation of political and artistic ideas. The old Javanese language, Kawi, became the language used by the aristocracy, one of the many Javanese traits and customs adopted by the people.

With the death of Airlangga, in the middle of the 11th century, Bali enjoyed a period of autonomy. However, this proved to be short-lived, as in 1284 the East Javanese King Kertanegara, conquered Bali and ruled over it from Java. In 1292, Kertanegara was murdered and Bali took the opportunity to liberate itself once again. However, in 1343, Bali was brought back under Javanese control by its defeat at the hands of Gajah Mada, a general in the last of the great Hindu-Javanese empires, the Majapahit. With the spread of Islam throughout Sumatra and Java during the 16th century, the Majapahit empire began to collapse and a large exodus of aristocracy, priests, artists and artisans to Bali ensued. For a while Bali flourished and the following centuries were considered the Golden Age of Bali's cultural history. The principality of Gelgel, near Klungkung, became a major centre for the arts, and Bali became the major power of the region, taking control of neighbouring Lombok and parts of East Java.

THE EUROPEAN INFLUENCE

The first Dutch seamen set foot on Bali in 1597, yet it wasn't until the 1800's that the Dutch showed an interest in colonising the island. In 1846, having had large areas of Indonesia under their control since the 1700's, the Dutch government sent troops into northern Bali. In 1894, Dutch forces sided with the Sasak people of Lombok to defeat their Balinese rulers. By 1911, all the Balinese principalities had either been defeated in battle, or had capitulated, leaving the whole island under Dutch control. During World War II, the Dutch were expelled by the Japanese, who had occupied Indonesia from 1942 to 1945.

After the Japanese defeat, the Dutch tried to regain control over their former colonies, but on August 17, 1945, Indonesia was declared independent by its first President, Sukarno. After four years of fighting and strong criticism from the international community, the Dutch government finally ceded and, in 1949, Indonesia was recognized as an independent country.

THE PEOPLE

Life in Bali is very communal with the organisation of villages, farming and even the creative arts being decided by the community. The local government is responsible for schools, clinics, hospitals and roads, but all other aspects of life are placed in the hands of two traditional committees, whose roots in Balinese culture stretch back centuries. The first, Subak, concerns the production of rice and organises the complex irrigation system. Everyone who owns a sawah, or padi field, must join their local Subak, which ensures that every member gets his fair share of irrigation water. The other community organisation is the Banjar, responsible for arranging all village festivals, marriage ceremonies and cremations. Most villages have at least one Banjar and all men have to join when they marry. Banjars, on average, give membership to 50 up to 100 families and all Banjars have their own meeting place called the Bale Banjar. As well as being used for regular meetings, the Bale (pavilion) is where the local gamelan orchestras and drama groups practice.

RELIGION

Balinese people are Hindu, yet their religion is very different from the Indian variety. The Balinese worship the Hindu trinity Brahma, Shiva and Vishnu, who are seen as manifestations of the Supreme God Sanghyang Widhi. Other Indian gods like Ganesha (the elephant-headed god) also appear, but more commonly. Shrines associated with the many gods and spirits, uniquely Balinese, are found all over the island. Balinese people strongly believe in magic and the power of spirits, basing much of their religion on this. They believe good spirits dwell in the mountains and that the seven seas are home to demons and ogres. Most villages have at least three main temples, namely: (1) the Pura Puseh, or 'temple of origin', facing the mountains; (2) the Pura Desa, or village temple normally found in the centre; and (3) the Pura Dalem, aligned with the sea and dedicated to the spirits of the dead. Aside from these 'village temples', almost every house has its own shrine. Some temples, for example Pura Besakih on the slopes of Mount Agung, are considerably more important and people from all over Bali travel there to worship.

Offerings play a significant role in Balinese life as they appease the spirits and thus bring prosperity and good health to the family. Every day small offering trays (canang sari), containing symbolic food, flowers, cigarettes and money, are respectfully put on shrines, in temples, in front of houses and shops, and at dangerous crossroads.

Festivals are another great occasion for soothing the gods. The women carry huge, beautifully arranged pyramids of food, fruit and flowers on their heads while the men might conduct a blood sacrifice through a cockfight. The gods are invited to descend and join the festivities with music and traditional dances to go with it. This kind of event is extremely exciting, memorable and well worth attending.

Please refer to the back page ('A Word of Advice') for Rules.

With the arrival of European artists in the beginning of the 20th century, this soon began to change. Local artists started to develop their own individual styles.

PAINTING

Until the start of the 20th century, the dominant form of painting was the portrayal of Hindu epics by painters and illustrators called 'Sangging'. Aside from making large representational paintings, the 'Sangging' were expected to decorate everything from gourds, wooden altars, bamboo vessels, headboards for princely bed chambers and, in particular, they were expected to illustrate astrological wall hangings on bark paper or cloth. It wasn't until the early 1900s that western influences reached Bali. The use of Asian symbols in the works of, among others, Paul Gauguin, Toulouse Lautrec and Camille Pissaro, created a new trend for Asian-influenced art and for European painters to move to Bali. Ubud's fame regarding art can be traced to the arrival of the German painter Walter Spies and the Dutch Rudolf Bonnet. There is a much wider range of artistic styles today.

Ubud Style

Influenced by the western use of perspective and everyday-life subject matter, the Ubud style is one of the most 'expressionistic' of all Bali's schools. Despite this, Ubud's art still retains many traditional features, including attention to detail and stylized characters.

Batuan Style

Strongly wayang based (puppet). This style involves hundreds of intricately painted representations of Balinese life, filling every available nook and cranny of the canvases.

Keliki Style

Keliki paintings measure 20cm by 15cm. They contain scenes of mythical and Ramayanic characters engaged in battle, good versus evil, on sinister

Pengosekan Style

From this village, on the outskirts of Ubud, a new style sprang up during the 1960s. It concentrated on just a few natural components, such as birds, insects, butterflies and plants.

STONE CARVING

Stone carvings were mainly used to decorate temples and palaces. There is little difference between the iconography decorating temples and that of private buildings. Gateways represent the dividing line between the inner and outer worlds and as such are the recipients of some of the most fantastic carvings. Bali's modern-day centre of stone carving is the village of Batubulan, situated halfway between the towns of Denpasar and Ubud.

TEXTILES

One of the most striking things about Bali is the rich variety of cloths and materials that are to be seen in thousands of shops throughout the island. However, only a small proportion of these are indigenous to Bali. The myriad of batik clothes and sarongs available everywhere, are mainly imported from Java. Bali does have a very rich textile industry of its own. The beautiful Songket fabrics, worn by performers of traditional dances, are a good example. In Songket gold and silver threads are woven into the cloth to create complex motifs of birds, butterflies and flowers.

Endek, or weft ikat, is another common method used in Bali. In weft ikat weaving, the weft threads are dyed to create the design and are then woven with plain warp threads. The least common form of weaving to be seen in Bali is the Geringsing, or double-ikat, and it is perhaps the most sought after. In Geringsing both the warp and weft threads are dyed to their final designs before being woven together. With the exception of certain areas in India and Japan, this weaving technique can only be found in the small Bali Aga village of Tenganan, East Bali.

WOOD CARVINGS

Wood and stone carvings have traditionally been featured largely in temple and palace architecture. Immaculately carved demons and mythical beings decorate pillars, door panels, lintels and window shutters with the object of protecting the buildings from evil intruders. Scenes of legendary figures placed within a floral décor, set a more pleasant and educational tone. With the arrival of European influences, wood carving started to develop a long more innovative and commercial lines. Today, whole villages specialise in producing certain styles of work. The village of Mas, near Ubud, is the best known for its carvings of female figures, Buddhas, characters from Hindu epics, the traditional topeng (mask) and Wayang Wong masks.

DANCE & DRAMA

Dance and drama have played a historically important role in Balinese society. Through this medium, people learned about the tales of the Ramayana, Mahabarata and of other epic stories from Balinese history. The following are brief descriptions of some of the more well-known dance-dramas that can be seen at regular performances throughout Bali.

Baris - This is a warrior's dance. It is usually performed by men, either solo or in a group of five or more.

Barong & Rangda - This is a story about the struggle between good and evil. Good is personified by the Barong Keket, a strange but fun-loving creature in the shape of a shaggy semi-lion. Evil is represented by Rangda, a witch.

Kecak - The most famous of the Balinese dances, originated from the Sanghyang dance choirs, holds its uniqueness in the entrancing 'Kecak, kecak' chant. The Kecak as a dance developed in the 1930s, in the village of Bona, where it is still performed regularly.

Legong - This dance tells a story of princess Rangkesari being held captive by King Lakesmi. Rangkesari's brother, prince Daha, gathers an army to rescue his sister. The Legong is a very classical and graceful dance, always performed by prepubescent girls, who can be as young as eight or nine years old.

Wayang Kulit (Shadow Puppet) - Wayang Kulit is one of the great story-telling traditions of the Javanese and Balinese people. The wayang show usually consists of a small four-piece orchestra, which provides the musical accompaniment, around sixty 'puppets', carved out of flat pieces of water buffalo hide, and the dalang or puppet-master. The good characters speak in ancient 'Kawi', whereas the evil or coarse ones speak Balinese.

The Bali Agung Show

The Bali Agung Show at the Bali Safari and Marine Park is an inspiring cultural performance dedicated to the entertainment of both local and international audiences. This spectacular show celebrated its 1500th performance on Jan 19, 2016. With regular scheduled performances over the past five years, the colossal and spectacular Bali Agung Show is arguably the longest-running theatrical production in Indonesia's theatrical history. Devdan Show Devdan's "Treasure of the Archipelago" at the Bali Nusa Dua Theatre is a 90-minute show that takes you on a tour of the Indonesian archipelago with impressive acrobatics, effects and traditional dances. Performed 4 times a week every week. www.devdanshow.com.

Calonarang

The Calonarang dance tells the tale of a widow queen, Walunateng Dirah from Girah village who possessed the ability to conduct powerful black magic. Her powers were said to be stronger than the King Erlangga's, causing fear among all that nobody would dare to ask for her daughter's hand in marriage. The widow, furious, placed a curse on the entire land and people began to die without reason, which caused a state-wide war. The King then sought the help of a Priest, Mpu Bharadah, who defeated Calonarang with his white magic.

Ramayana

The Ramayana dance tells the epic love story of Rama and Sita whose love was too strong to be torn apart. Expect exciting scenes of treachery among the royal family, lost-in-the-jungle scenes, kidnappings, brave rescue missions by Hanoman the Monkey King, and a romantic ending where Rama is forever reunited with his love, Sita.

Water Sports

Below are a few suggestions of exciting land-based and aquatic activities. If you know what you like - go for it!

CRUISES

The 13,677 islands of the Indonesian archipelago stretching over an area 5,200 km into the Pacific Ocean present a plethora of choices for “boaties” to explore. Bali has three main ports - Benoa in the south, Padangbai in the east and Gilimanuk in the north. Several major shipping lines make Padangbai and Benoa ports of call on around the world cruises. If you would like to explore the islands near Bali you have a wide range of choices for boating expeditions from a day cruise to longer overnight trip on yachts or luxury cruisers. Here's the selective list of some sea cruise companies on the island. To Nusa Lembongan and Nusa Penida - 1 Day

Nusa Lembongan is an island of 12km², situated 28 km east of Benoa. It's one of Bali's most popular destinations for wonderful day trips; its marvellous coral reefs make it an excellent spot for diving, snorkelling and surfing. Nusa Penida is a larger island off the southeast coast of Bali with a dry climate and a population of 45,000 people. This island is also a great spot for diving and snorkelling but beware of strong currents. Be safe and never dive alone! Several cruise companies offer day tours to Nusa Lembongan or Nusa Penida islands. Alternatively there is a local boat from Sanur Beach that leaves daily for both islands.

BALI HAI CRUISES

Indonesia's leading Marine Tourism Company, Bali Hai Cruises, operates exciting Day and Evening Cruises from a private reception facility at Benoa Harbour, Bali. Aboard a fleet of the most luxurious, modern vessels in Bali, our experienced, professional and friendly crew ensures the very best blend of Indonesian and Western hospitality to Lembongan Island daily. DIVING & SNORKELING

Everyone should know that Bali has a wonderful underwater world with abundant marine life and beautiful coral garden awaiting to be explored. There are many diving sites in Bali that attract divers from around the globe. Some of the diving sites, like USAT Liberty Shipwreck and Amed diving sites are suitable for beginner divers. If you've not yet tried these sports, we recommend that you start at Sanur or Tanjung Benoa Beach where you can hire the necessary equipment, either right on the beachfront (at a beach club) or at one of the hotel-run dive centres. Instructions are available at these diving centres. Most of the centres offer International (PADI) diving certificates but be sure to check their PADI Resort Code as well, for the insurance and medical facilities. It is advisable to look for diving centres that have a 'five-star' PADI Approval Rating. Please note that Bali's only decompression chamber is at Sanglah Public Hospital in Denpasar (see 'Hospitals' in the 'Essential Info' section for more info).

Where to Dive?

Tulamben Bay inc. USAT Liberty Shipwreck (north east Bali) – (*P4) - World-famous for the 120m USAT Liberty Shipwreck, Wall/Drop-off and Coral Garden, and offering incredible shore-diving with very easy conditions, Tulamben Bay is Bali's most popular dive location. Amazing selection of resident marine life. Suitable for all levels including Try-Diving and snorkelling. 2.5hrs by minibus from South Bali.

Tulamben Area inc Kubu Wreck – (*P5) - Only a short distance south of Tulamben Bay (by jukung, local outrigger fishing boat) are other wonderful sites such as Emerald, Alamanda, Batu Kelebit and Seraya Slopes. 10 mins by road, north of Tulamben Bay, Kubu is the location of Bali's newest shipwreck. Suitable for all levels.

Amed (north east Bali) – (*P5) - The diving outside this sleepy fishing village combines reef and wall diving that can be accessed from shore or by jukung. Pretty corals, good variety of fish, warm water. Suitable for all levels including Try-Diving and snorkelling. 2.5hrs by minibus from South Bali.

Blue Lagoon (Padangbai, east coast Bali) – (*N8) - The closest area to South Bali with good diving. There are companies offering diving around Sanur/ Nusa Dua but it is only for people who want to Get Wet. Blue Lagoon has a white sand bottom and is a treasure-trove of marine life. A good choice for Try-Diving and snorkelling. 1.5hrs by minibus from South Bali.

Mimpang/Tepekong (Padangbai, east coast Bali) – (*O8) - These two sites offer breathtaking diving, however are for experienced divers only due to the steep walls, cold water and (often strong) currents. Expect schooling fish, Mola-Mola (Ocean sunfish) in season, White-tip reef sharks and maybe turtles. 1.5hrs by minibus from south Bali then 10 mins by boat.

Gili Biaha (Padangbai, east coast Bali) – (*P7) - Chiselled black walls with healthy corals, good diversity of fish, sharks and frequent pelagic visitors; good visibility. Best dived at slack high tide; can be surgey. AquaMarine is of only a few companies offering Biaha. For experienced divers only. 1.5hrs by minibus from South Bali then 30 mins by boat.

Gili Selang (Padangbai, east coast Bali) – (*P7) - Small island on Bali's eastern point, like all exposed sites, can have ripping currents but you may see White-tip reef sharks, Napoleon wrasse, turtles - even dolphins. For experienced divers only. 1.5hrs by minibus from South Bali, then 40 mins by boat (can be accessed from Amed).

Nusa Penida (offshore island on Bali's east coast) – (*N10) - Nusa Penida is the largest of the three offshore islands. The water here is fairly cold (due to the ocean currents) but often startlingly clear, with gorgeous corals and prolific fish, occasional turtles, reef sharks and in August to September Mola-Mola (Ocean sunfish). Some dive experience required. Accessed by boat from Padangbai and Sanur.

Toyapakeh (Nusa Penida) – (*N9) - Nusa Penida's most popular dive site, has good visibility and rich, impressive coral formations with big bommies. The profusion of colourful soft corals provides hiding places for many kinds of marine life. Some dive experience required. Accessed by boat from Padangbai and Sanur.

SD, Ped, Sental (Nusa Penida) – (*N9, *O9) - Three lovely dive sites on one long reef with many soft corals and fish such as sweetlips, lionfish, moray eels, scorpionfish and reef sharks, in addition to turtles, nudibranchs and crabs. Some dive experience required. Accessed by boat from Padangbai and Sanur.

Manta Points I and II (Nusa Penida) – (*N10, *N11) - With dramatic limestone cliffs descending straight into the ocean, the surge can be strong; no currents. The Mantas are 2-4m wide and seen quite shallow. Mola-Molas, Bamboo sharks, Shark rays, tunas, Tiger mackerels and dolphins may also be seen. Some dive experience required. Accessed by boat from Padangbai and Sanur.

Nusa Penida (Crystal Bay) – (*N10) - Best known for Mola-Mola in July-November's cold waters! The bay itself is quite beautiful with good numbers and variety of fish; gorgeous corals. You may see Eagle rays and the Bali Wobbegong shark – yes, it's only found in Bali. Experienced divers only. Accessed by boat from Padangbai and Sanur.

AquaMarine Diving - Bali's expert diving company operates 1 Day Dive Trips and Multi-Day Bali Diving Safaris (dive/accom packages to see the best of Indonesia). They also offer PADI courses from beginning to professional level. Ph. +62 361 4738 020. Website: www.AquaMarineDiving.com

Lombok - Bali's neighbouring island. Off its coast are the famous Gili Isles, with some of the best snorkelling and diving spots in the region. Be aware of potentially strong currents around and between these islands.

1. Han's Reef (Off the coast of Gili Air)

Off the coast of Lombok, the Gili Islands, offers some of the best diving in the region. Han's Reef is a wonderful dive site to see turtles and a must for macro lovers. You will find beautiful coral bommies, bat fish, angelfish, box fish, frog fish, leaf scorpion fish, spotted morays, pipe fish, mantis shrimps, nudibranchs and so much more. Suitable for all levels of divers.

2. Shark Point (Off the coast of Gili Trawangan)

Shark Point is one of the most popular dive sites in the Gilis. It offers an amazing reef fish life and excellent pelagic life with white tip reef sharks, humphead parrot fish, tuna, giant trevally... Turtles are almost guaranteed to be seen in the shallow parts and pygmy seahorses can also be found in the sea fans if you have got the eye for them! Suitable for all level divers.

7SEAS

Located only two hours from Bali on the beach of Gili Air, 7SEAS International is a full service PADI 5-Star dive resort. 7SEAS offers dive trips around the Gili Islands and courses for all levels of divers. Beginners and children are more than welcome to join to discover the amazing sensations of diving in the turquoise waters of the Gilis. The turtles and tropical fish are all waiting for you! Accommodation also available in charming cottages.

PARASAILING

Try the beach clubs in Sanur and Tanjung Benoa for a safe yet thrilling parasailing experience over Nusa Lembongan. For your own safety, make sure the companies have insurance coverage.

RAFTING

If you're a thrill-seeker craving for something exciting and new, this holiday, feed your adventurous soul with a gripping white-water rafting adventure. Bali's mountainous central area is perfect for such an exhilarating experience as you plunge down the raging rapids of the mighty river. While there are plenty of rafting companies now in Bali offering rafting experiences on the mighty Ayung River, we recommend Mason Adventures for a fun yet safe experience for the whole family. For the past 3 decades, Mason Adventures has been synonymous with quality adventure and hospitality experiences in the heart of Bali. The company is passionate, driven and committed to excellence and comes with a '5-Star Guarantee', comprising of the very best in Experience, Facilities, Services, Safety, Ethics and Value for Money. Book your packages at www.masonadventures.com.

SAILING

You can choose from a range of different charter yachts, sailing boats, and traditional schooners with expert crew and Western tour guide for charter cruises from Bali through the Lesser Sunda Islands, to Sulawesi, and through the Moluccas.

Charter rates include all meals and soft drinks during your cruise as well as shore excursions and the services of the crew and tour guide. Air fares, any accommodation ashore, and insurance are NOT included. Please note that charter rates may vary depending on your routing and special requirements. As a rule of thumb, calculate US$150 per person per day including everything. That's usually less than you'd spend in a good hotel in Bali!

See here are a couple of the yachts you can charter with expert crew and tour guide for your voyage:

- Sea Safari V/VI/VIII: 721 212
- The Waka Motor Yacht: 723629, 723659

SURFING & BODY BOARDING

In Bali there are definitely waves for everyone to surf. If you don't have your own board, check out the Kuta or Sanur beaches for rentals. Rip Curl School of Surf on Blue Ocean Beach in Seminyak guarantees you'll learn! If you're not standing up on your board by the end of the day, your next lesson is free.

Bali is part of the Indonesian archipelago of 18,700 islands and lies approximately 8°C south of the equator. Bali is blessed by nature with a short, hot wet season and a longer, cooler, dry season and tourists flock here all year round. Many tourists choose to arrive in the dry season which nowadays appears to cover a longer period from April to late November. The busiest period is during the holiday season of August, which is also the coolest month on this Island of the Gods.

Season - Dry Season (May - September), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 4 - 5 ft is the best and also better on a middle to high tide. Best Winds - South East Trade Winds

Canggu J9

Works best on the mid and high tides with a swell size of 5-6ft. Surfing hazards are the rips and rocks in the surfing area. A number of locals surf this break so be prepared for a little attitude from some of them. The surf can blow out if the wind picks up and the break can get crowded at high tide as it only supports about 25 surfers.

Sanur L10

Season - Wet Season (November - April), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 4 - 6 ft. Best Winds - West South West

Padang Galak in Sanur L10

Padang Galak is a beach break with standard right and left waves that will suit all levels of surfers. The break generally suits all tides and works best on a South West or Southerly swell of 3ft - 8ft with winds from the North West or West.

Keramas L10 - M9

Tides are best at mid and high tide with a swell from 3-5 ft up to 8ft and the wind is best from the West on a North West or Easterly swell.

Serangan K11 - L10

Season - Wet Season (November - April), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 4 - 6 ft. Best Winds - West South West

Nusa Dua L12

Season - Wet Season (October - April), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 4 - 8 ft. Best Winds - West North West

Balangan K12

Season - Dry Season (May - October), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 4 - 8 ft. Best Winds - South East Trade Winds

Bingin J12

Season - Dry Season (May - October), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 3 - 5 ft. Best Winds - South East Trade Winds

Impossibles J11

Season - Dry Season (May - October), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 4 - 8 ft. Best Winds - South East Trade Winds

Padang Padang J11

Season - Dry Season (May - October), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 5 - 8ft. Best Winds - South East Trade Winds

Uluwatu J11

Season - Dry Season (May - October), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 3 - 10ft Uluwatu always seems to have waves and rarely goes flat. All conditions seem to work. Best Winds - South East Trade Winds

Green Ball J11

Season - Wet Season (November - April), Swell Direction - South, ideal Size - 4 - 6ft Uluwatu always seems to have waves and rarely goes flat. All conditions seem to work. Best Winds - West North West

Nyang-Nyang J11

The break has a quality right and left wave that produces a ride of 50 - 150 meters depending on conditions. A wave that should be sampled and not missed on your next surfing trip to Bali. The break tends to work on all tides and begins working with a swell of about 3ft through to 8ft plus.

Balian I8

The break is made up of reef and rocks and has a quality right & left hand wave producing a ride of about 150 meters on a good day and is suitable for all levels of surfer. The break can work on all tides and optimum swell size is from 3ft - 8ft. The lefts are usually longer and better shaped than the right handers. When you enter the water you will be taken out by the current to the right. Do not try to master the current because you simply will not succeed.

Medewi F6

Season - Wet & Dry Seasons - Early mornings are best as the winds can blow the surf out by midday. Swell Direction - South, ideal Wave Size - 4 - 6ft. Best Winds - Early morning with light winds.

SEA WALKING

This is an alternative way to discover marine life in the underwater world in addition to diving and snorkeling. The difference is that sea walking is simple, easy yet friendly, and of course safe. No diving, swimming abilities and complicated equipment are needed. To do this activity, you will wear a uniquely designed helmet that will enable you to breathe normally without dive tank. Going down about 3 - 5 meters deep, you can walk at the bottom of the ocean, get face to face with colorful fishes, beautiful corals and abundant marine life. Some tour operators in Sanur and Nusa Dua will assist you enjoy the most of Sea Walking.

KAYAKING

This is one of our favorite beach activities, and it is really fun. In Bali, you can easily find kayak rental on the beach with calm and soft waves like Sanur Beach, Pandawa Beach and Nusa Dua Beach. It is safe and suitable for all ages. You can jump in the kayak by yourself or double with another member, and move exploring the shallow part of the ocean. Beware not go too far from the beach! For a more adventurous kayaking, go to Ubud to try river kayaking along the Ayung River.

For those wishing to sweat it out on dry land, the following pages outline some of the most exciting land-based activities and sports on offer in Bali.

BALI SAFARI AND MARINE PARK

Experience the riches of wildlife at Bali Safari & Marine Park with an exciting Safari Journey that takes you through the natural habitats of Indonesia, India and Africa. CLIMBING

It takes about 3-6 hours to climb Mt. Agung, Bali's highest mountain (see Bali Road Map - *N5) and it takes a day (return trip) to reach the summit of Mt. Batukaru (see Bali Road Map - *15). Guides are a must! For a more adventurous climb, try Mt. Rinjani in Lombok (ascent and descent - 3 days). Not advisable during the rainy season (Nov-March).

CYCLING

Cycling is a fantastic way to see Bali 'off the beaten track'. Most pedal-pushers can find their own way around but there are also adventure companies offering guided excursions on bikes through mountain trails.

GOLF

Golfers in Bali have a choice of 4 world-class golf courses. On Bali's South West coast, close to the famous temple of Tanah Lot, is the spectacular Nirwana Bali Golf Club, voted as Asia's top golf venue. In Nusa Dua, you can tee off at the Bali Golf and Country Club. The Grand Bali Beach in Sanur offers a 9-hole golf course, whereas the award-winning Handara Golf Resort

Bali, located at the beautiful and cool Bedugul countryside in Bali's central lake district is a spectacular 18-hole golf resort and nature retreat that's perfect for families. Don't forget to try your swing at the beautiful New Kuta Golf, voted as Indonesia's leading golf resort 2010-2011.

MASON ELEPHANT PARK AND LODGE

Bali's only dedicated elephant rescue reserve, the Mason Elephant Park & Lodge is home to 31 rescued and endangered Sumatran elephants, 4 of which were born here. The park provides guests with the opportunity to interact and learn about these gentle giants while giving the elephants a comfortable and safe environment. Set in 3.5 hectares, the park has been carefully landscaped to mimic as much as possible the original environment of the elephants' previous home in Sumatra. The location in central Bali was also chosen for its cooler climate and more tropical location. Bathe the elephants, feed them, go on an elephant safari and take pictures with them. You could also stay at the Elephant Park & Lodge for an experience you'll never forget. T: +62361 721 480 W:www.masonadventures.com

OFF ROAD TOURS

Get off the beaten track and discover the natural beauty of Bali with Bali Quad & Bali Buggy tours. Great fun for the whole family! The central part of Bali offer adventurous journeys awaiting to be explored. You may also try and land cruise tour with big four-wheeled jeep to marvel the wonderful rice field terraces of Jatiluwih or wildlife watching at the West Bali National Park.

TREKKING

As it is easy getting lost while trekking in Bali (parts of the jungle can look identical and paths often lead to nowhere), using a guide is advisable.

PINEH TREKKING

Beaches

There are several children friendly beaches, and even beach clubs who will cater to our little treasures with all luxurious needs close by.

SANUR

This beach has a wonderful promenade that stretches for kilometres, allowing for strolls with prams or even gentle cycling, dotted with restaurants and hotels. The beaches are white sand and perfect for wading, snorkeling and supervised swimming. There are some sport centres that rent equipment as well as organize lessons, if desired.

SUNDAYS BEACH CLUB

This trendy beach club is hidden among towering limestone cliffs overlooking 180 metres of white sand. Entry is IDR 300,000 per adult and IDR 50,000 for kids aged 3-11 and set against food & beverages. Relax on deck chairs and bean bags or enjoy water sports, beach volleyball and a tantalizing selection at the shack-style restaurant.

NUSA DUA

This beach curves creating a lagoon feel, and is the throes of completing its promenade, allowing for strolls with prams or even gentle cycling, dotted with restaurants and hotels. This beach is perfect for wading, snorkeling and supervised swimming. When the tide is out there is hours of fun searching in the rock pools. There are some trees on the beach also offering shade as well as sunbeds for hire, and sport centres that rent equipment for activities as well as organize lessons, if desired.

TANJUNG BENOA

A lot of water sports are offered in this area, just next to Nusa Dua. The beach is clean and the sea calm and mostly flat due to the reef break being further out. You can water ski, parasail, snorkel, jetski, windsurf etc in this area. This is also a hotel and resort area, so there are many restaurants with a multitude of cuisines to pick from, most being kid friendly.

PASIR PUTIH BEACH CLUB & BAR

Housed within an open-sided bamboo edifice, Pasir Putih welcomes walk-in visitors as well as guests of the tented Menjangan Dynasty Resort at Banyuwedang Bay in Northwest Bali. Enjoy all-day dining, beachside swimming or have fun kayaking, canoeing and paddle boarding in the calm turquoise sea.

Shopping Paradise

For those who don't want to wander too far from the beach, Kuta, Legian, & Seminyak have more than enough to ease any shopaholic's withdrawal symptoms.

KUTA / LEGIAN / SEMINYAK

see Kuta fold-out map

Parallel to the beach, there's Jl. Legian, filled with shops for all needs and tastes. The streets running perpendicular to the sea or parallel to Jl. Legian have a number of smaller, market-style shops where you can bargain for great prices! You can buy anything from sarongs, sandals and wooden statues to Javanese puppets, silver jewelry and surf boards. There is certainly something for everyone!

At the far end of Jl. Legian you will find designer boutiques, offering reasonably priced designer/label-wear and a great range of 'street smart' fashion. Buy original gifts in one of the eco-friendly shops or decorate your home with items from many excellent antique/interior-design shops. Shopping in Seminyak gives you a breather from the busier streets of Kuta. Many of the boutiques are filled with fabulous and edgy designer homeware and fashion.

Easy Riding

CAR HIRE

Car rental agencies can be found in all the major tourist areas. Prices start from approximately USD 30 a day for a Suzuki-style jeep (Jimny) and about USD45 for a new Kijang jeep. Organize and arrange your car rental needs for a holiday or business stay. Most rental cars in Bali are in decent shape, BUT you should check them thoroughly before signing any forms. Always carry an international driver's license with you.

MOTORBIKE RENTAL

You can find bikes for rent almost everywhere. Prices usually start from around USD6/day for a standard 125cc motorbike. Scooters, affectionately called 'Bebeks' (Ducks), start at around USD5/day. Always check the bike before parting with your cash. In Indonesia you have to wear a helmet by law and carry an international drivers license!

BICYCLE/MOUNTAIN BIKE

Cycling can be a cheap and enjoyable way to get around and about. It does, however, take some fitness to ride around the more central and hilly regions! The northern coastal roads are ideal for longer trips. You can find bike rental shops in all the main tourist areas.

ONLINE TAXIS

Grab or Go-Jek are now the most convenient way to travel, simply download the application and order your ride!

TOURS

Organised tours relieve you from the hassle of trying to navigate your own way around. You do have to follow itineraries however, so spur of the moment sight-seeing is not an option on these.

General Things

THAT YOU SHOULD OR SHOULDN'T DO...

do

...change money at a reputable looking location, use your own (or the hotel's) calculator before changing!

...put on loads of high factor waterproof suncream (especially if you intend to spend a lot of time in the water).

...drink a lot of bottled water and eat a lot of fresh fruit - do your body a favour.

...try not to step on offerings in the street (walk around them).

...be careful with your belongings at all times. Crime is on the increase and can ruin your holiday. Cases of handbag snatching have been reported so please leave important documents in your hotel safe (carry photocopies) and wear your bag across your shoulders!

...respect the slow pace of processions. If stuck behind one don't honk your horn!

...haggle when buying (except on price-tagged goods).

...buy 'Immodium' to relieve bouts of Bali belly.

don't

...forget to bring your passport (or a photocopy of your ID) with you at all times-as well as a copy of Bali Plus!

...swim outside designated swimming areas. Currents can be very strong so swim between red and yellow flags.

...do drugs! It could lead to death penalty. Enough foreigners reside in Bali in courtesy of the Govt. prison service!

...touch people's heads - it is very offensive to Hindus.

...enter a temple during menstruation. Sorry ladies!

...forget to add salt to your food and to drink lots of water-you probably sweat more here than at home.

...worry too much about the ice - it's government quality controlled in established bars and restaurants.

...forget to look and listen while crossing the road. Cars may stop, motorbikes may not!

...forget to reconfirm your flight 72 hours prior to flying.

...have a great holiday!

A Word of Advice

ATTENDING CEREMONIES:

Remember these are serious occasions and should be treated as such. Religious guidelines:

- Always wear a sarong and sash.
- Do not walk in front of people that are praying.
- Do not use a flash camera or point your camera into the priest's face!
- Never sit higher than the priest or the offerings.
- At cremations, do not get in the way of the attendees - however important that photographic opportunity is!
- Women are not allowed to enter temples during menstruation.

N.B. When attending Special Ceremonies or Anniversary Celebrations as a guest or onlooker, small donations are gratefully received. Your donation will help in paying for the offerings, and upkeep of the temple.

DANGEROUS SPORTS:

Make sure you either have personal insurance or travel insurance that will cover any accident.

DRIVING:

In Bali, always expect the unexpected, always keep your eyes open and your mind on driving. Beware of motorbikes! It is best to rent a car with full insurance as this will save time and money if you are involved in an accident.

You must use a helmet at all times and have a valid license.

MONEY CHANGERS:

Be very careful when changing your money. Always check the rate of exchange and commission (if any). Most importantly, always count your money before you leave the premises and, if you can, bring your own calculator as the ones used by some places can be a little 'inaccurate'.

PETTY CRIME:

There have been a few cases of handbags being snatched after tourists have cashed money at Banks or Money Changers! Put your money away in your 'burn-bag' or hold onto your hand bag tightly!

When changing large amounts of money please check each note carefully as there are a number of (noticeably) fake notes in circulation.

When trying on garments do not take your jewellery off and leave it lying around - give it to a friend or leave it in the hotel safe.

When at a spa - use the jewellery box or locker provided for jewellery.

SWIMMING IN THE SEA:

Currents and undertows can be strong. Always swim between the red and yellow flags and don't swim too far out! Please, do not leave your belongings unattended on the beach.

Thank you for respecting these suggestions.
